The Cold has Officially Arrived!!

It is finally starting to feel like winter. brrr... Did you know that older adults have a much higher risk of health issues and or injury during the winter months as it gets colder outside?

HealthInAging.org is here to provide you with some helpful tips to keep you and/or your loved one safe throughout the winter. Follow the link below for more information.

Assistive Technology

Don't forget SeniorCare Experts is your local provider of PERS, Personal Emergency Response Systems. Call us for more information at 896-2316.

Are you experiencing hearing loss? Captel Captioned Telephones is a federally funded device under the ADA that enables those with hearing loss to regain some of their independence over the telephone. Staying connected with loved ones is so important and this life changing phone helps with just that. Like closed captions on your TV the Captel transcribes conversations on the telephone. We offer multiple no cost models with installation included. It is the Ultimate Phone for people with hearing loss!

Below are a couple of resources to learn more.
